

The Wave of Unity

The sun brings warmth, and the moon brings waves

Love brings light in our darkest days

There is no room to hate if we stand as one

But, don't you see

They don't want unity

The people who pin you against me

And me against you

Want us divided

Because it should be us against them

But they can't conquer us if we are united

Let's end this senseless division

And together, let's mend our broken nation
